2013: A Year of Impact & Service

The Women's Center is pleased to share its 2013 Annual Report Update with you. With your support, the Center continues to provide counseling and other much-needed services to women, men and children in our community. Highlights from 2013 include:

Served the underserved

The majority of our fundraising goes to serve those who otherwise could not afford assistance in Virginia, DC and Maryland. In 2013:

- More than 61% of our clients paid reduced fees
- 31% of our clients were unemployed
- Counseling services and advocacy were provided to victims of domestic violence at no cost
- Over 30% of our clients had household incomes of less than $50,000
- The Women's Center was awarded a grant from the Office of Victim Services in D.C. to provide therapy services to victims of sexual assault at no cost

Provided education, resources and counseling to serve a range of individual and family needs

- Over 700 women and men attended our 27th Annual Leadership Conference in March where leaders and subject experts provided a day of learning and inspiration.
- Our therapists and workshop facilitators served our clients to help them in all areas of life, including 99 workshops and over 24,000 hours of counseling covering: Job and Career; Aging/Elder Care; Finances; Marriage/Couples Relationships; Parenting and Family Relationships; Separation and Divorce; Managing Stress; Trauma; Balancing Work and Home Life; Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault.

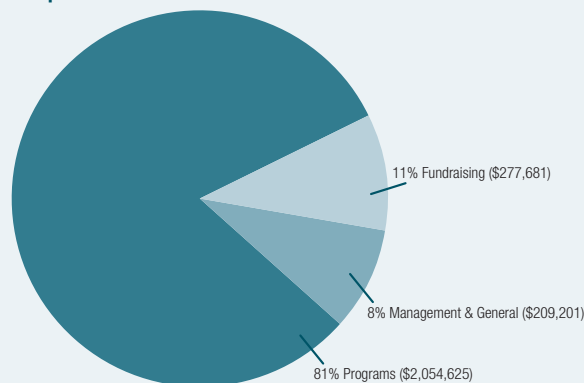

Partnered with the Community

In addition to our offices in VA and DC, our therapists provide services in collaboration with government and nonprofit partners. It is possible to most effectively serve the community when we have a full understanding of the resource network and then work together to holistically support our clients' needs. We thank our partners and resource providers, some of whom are listed below:

- Office of Women & Domestic and Sexual Violence Services

Acknowledgement

It is with the support of our donors, sponsors and grantors that we are able to provide necessary resources to serve clients at all socioeconomic levels. It is with the support of our staff, therapists and counselors that we are able to serve clients in any phase or challenge of life. We thank our 68 therapists and counselors and our 15 unpaid interns for sharing their time, expertise and kindness. We are grateful for the hard work and dedication of our staff and contractors as they work behind the scenes to ensure we can serve our client needs.

The Women's Center is grateful for the thousands of hours performed by volunteers. In addition to the many hours donated to help with our Leadership Conference, the Gala and other fund-raising events, many of our daily functions, including answering our phones and managing workshops would not be done without their help. We thank all of those in the community that support our work.
