

Cyndy Porter is an award winning, certified photographer, expert image consultant and inspiring public speaker. She believes deeply in the importance of personal image and the hidden power associated with creating and showcasing a personal style. Cyndy began her career in sales and marketing and became a divisional vice president at a media conglomerate. Today, Cyndy builds on that business knowledge and experience, by helping her clients create an image that communicates who they are, gets them noticed and earns them respect with professional success - the ultimate goal.